

Mobile surveillance towers for defense and tactical operations

Deploy advanced surveillance wherever it's needed—fast, secure, and mission-ready

TelescopicMast's mobile towers are trusted platforms for military, border, and defense operations. Built to perform in remote or high-risk environments, these CE-certified towers provide a flexible solution for surveillance, asset protection, and perimeter control. Each tower extends to 6 meters, offering elevated coverage and a strong visual deterrent.

Tactical applications

TelescopicMast towers support a wide range of military operations:

- Area control for forward operating bases and mobile camps
- Surveillance of compounds and checkpoints
- Equipment monitoring in remote or unmanned zones
- Border protection and perimeter detection
- Temporary or covert deployments with camouflage options

Built for the defense environment

Constructed from 100% galvanized steel, the towers resist vandalism, extreme weather, and rough handling. Anti-climb features, lockable doors, and reinforced mast sections keep critical equipment secure. High-grade steel cables reduce camera shake and improve accuracy in adverse conditions.

Flexible power options

Deploy in any terrain using mains, solar, battery, or fuel cell power. Long-term off-grid operation is possible with methanol or hydrogen cells, reducing the need for service visits.

Key benefits for defense operations

- Rapid deployment in changing environments
- Fully integratable with defense-grade technology
- Mobile or semi-fixed placement for flexible strategy
- Branded or camouflaged based on mission needs
- Lower cost than permanent structures or trailers
- Reduces reliance on manned guarding
- Compact footprint allows multi-unit transport

Add your own equipment

Our towers do not come with pre-installed equipment. This gives full control to integrators, military engineers, and security teams to install the exact combination of PTZ cameras, thermal sensors, sirens, antennas, or analytic tools needed for the mission.

Your surveillance. Your strategy. Our platform.
